Travel Directions

By Air: University Park Airport is served by U.S. Airways, United Airlines, and Northwest Airlines. There are direct flights to State College from Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Detroit, and Washington DC. Free shuttle service to the hotels is available if arranged in advance. It is a relatively short taxi ride to either hotel.

By Car from the East: Take I-80 in PA; use exit 24. Follow PA 26 South to U.S. 322 West Bypass. Turn right onto the Bypass then take the next exit: Penn State University Park/Research Park Exit.

?? To Penn State Conference Center Hotel from the above exit, turn right at the light and follow Park Avenue directly to Penn State Conference Center Hotel in Research Park.

By Car from the West: In PA, take I-80 East to Exit 20 (Woodland) just east of Clearfield. Then take Route 322 East to State College.

?? To Penn State Conference Center Hotel from the above, take 322 East Bypass to the Penn State University Park/Research Park Exit. Turn left at the stop sign and follow Park Avenue directly to the Penn State Conference Center Hotel.

?? To The Nittany Lion Inn from the above, stay on North Atherton Street/Business Route 322, past a variety of businesses. At the light at Park Avenue, turn left. The Inn is on your right.

By Car from the Southeast: follow U.S. 322 West, through Lewistown, to State College. As you approach State College, take U.S. 322 West Bypass. Route is then the same as from the East.

By Car from the Southwest: follow U.S. 220 to U.S. 322 East. As you approach State College, take U.S. 322 East Bypass. Then same route as from the West.

By Bus: Bus connections are available to and from State College on Fullington Trailways and Greyhound Lines.

There is no direct rail service to State College.

Childcare Service

Child care is available on weekdays at Daybridge Child Development Center, 301 Innovation Boulevard, next door to the Penn Stater. Three to four weeks advance notice is required. Phone the Assistant Director at 814-861-4391.

Child care is also available at Cubs' Club, 217 South Burrowes Street, not far from The Nittany Lion Inn, in downtown State College. Two to three weeks advance notice is required. Phone the owner at 814-231-8832.

Both facilities normally are open only Monday through Friday. If weekend care is needed, the owner of Cubs' Club will work with parents to provide suitable arrangements.

Audiovisual Equipment

To make arrangements for audiovisual equipment, please contact Nancy Fedrow (814-865-6398; naf2@psu.edu) by September 11, 2000.

Abstracts of Papers

Abstracts provided by authors will be available at registration. Speakers should send abstracts to James Risser, Department of Philosophy, Seattle University, 900 Broadway, Seattle, WA 98122 by September 1, 2000.

Book Exhibit

A publishers' book display will be held in Presidents Hall 1 on the first floor of the Penn Stater, from noon Thursday until 1:00 p.m. on Saturday. This display is organized by SPEP in cooperation with publishers specializing in scholarship influenced by continental philosophy and literary, social, and political theory. Publishers offer discounts on books ordered at the exhibit.

Web Site

The complete program, with updates and corrections, is also accessible on the SPEP web page which may be found at <http://www.spep.org>. Paper abstracts will be available on the web page by late September.

Publication Notice

SPEP retains the right of first review for papers presented at the annual meeting. Each presenter should bring two copies of her or his paper to turn in to the registration table at the time of registration. Decisions about publication will be based on this version. If the paper is selected for publication, there will be an opportunity for minor revisions. Decisions regarding publication will be communicated by mid-January 2001.

Program Notes

The Society for Phenomenology and the Human Sciences, the Nietzsche Society, the Society for the Advancement of American Philosophy, the Society for Continental Philosophy and Theology, the Ancient Philosophy Society, and the International Association for Environmental Philosophy are meeting in conjunction with SPEP.

Executive Committee Elections

David Ingram's term of office expires this year. The Executive Committee nominates John A. McCumber and Max Pensky to fill his position. The election will be held at the business meeting.

1. John A. McCumber received his Ph.D. in Philosophy and Greek from the University of Toronto. He has taught philosophy at the University of Michigan--Dearborn and the Graduate Faculty of the New School for Social Research. After 15 years in Northwestern University's Philosophy Department, he is now Chair of the German Department. He is the only professor at Northwestern to have held both the Koldyke Chair of Teaching Excellence and the Lane Professorship in the Humanities. In 1992 he became General Editor of the SPEP Series at Northwestern University Press. He is the author of many articles and five books: Poetic Interaction (Chicago, 1989), The Company of Words: Hegel, Language, and Systematic Philosophy (Northwestern, 1993); Metaphysics and Oppression: Heidegger's Challenge to Western Philosophy (Indiana, 1999); Philosophy and Freedom: Derrida, Rorty, Habermas, Foucault (Indiana, 2000); and Time in the Ditch: American Philosophy and the McCarthy Era (Northwestern, forthcoming November 2000).

2. Max Pensky is at Binghamton University. He specializes in Contemporary Continental Philosophy, Critical Theory, Social and Political Philosophy, and German Cultural Studies. His principal publications include: Melancholy Dialectics: Walter Benjamin and the Play of Mourning (Massachusetts 1993, second edition, 2000); editor, The Actuality of Adorno: Critical Essays on Adorno and the Postmodern (SUNY 1997); editor/translator, Jurgen Habermas, The Postnational Constellation (Polity, 2000); Jurgen Habermas, The Past as Future (Nebraska, 1995); He has also published numerous articles on Benjamin, Adorno, Habermas, poststructuralism, German political culture, etc. He has given papers and served as moderator and commentator at many SPEP meetings. He is currently a member of the book panel advisory committee for SPEP.

Proposal to Raise Conference Registration Fee and Membership Dues

At the 1999 business meeting of SPEP, the executive committee announced its intention to study the feasibility of revising the SPEP dues and registration fees and promulgate its proposal before the 2000 meeting. At the Penn State SPEP business meeting, the executive committee will present a motion to the membership to raise dues for faculty to $60 (a $25 increase), to raise faculty registration fees to $25 ($15 increase), and to increase the combined student membership/registration fee to $20 ($10 increase).

Justification

SPEP has grown into the second largest philosophy society in North America. The cost of organizing and hosting the annual conference in a way that reflects the size and quality of our group has spiraled. In addition, costs for mailings, business expenses, and activities of our society beyond its organization of the annual meeting have also grown.

In the last few years, we have struggled mightily to attract and encourage host institutions who have generously agreed to pay the lion's share of the expenses for our meeting. Oftentimes, we have succeeded in attracting the sponsorship of these institutions only late and in a crisis atmosphere. We have had little or no choice in terms of competing bids to offer to the membership. We have therefore had little control in terms of balancing the location preferences and needs of the membership.

The number of institutions who have not already hosted SPEP in the last few years and who have programs hospitable to the interests of our members and therefore might be expected to be interested in hosting us in the future are few in number.

The average cost of hosting SPEP in the last several years is around $12,000. This has been a major factor in discouraging potential host institutions from inviting us. It has become apparent that the membership needs to bear a greater burden of the costs.

We propose these raises be implemented for the 2001 year. This will allow us to garner sufficient funds to be able to underwrite increasingly larger portions of the cost of the meeting in 2002 and 2003, and by 2004 we will be self-sufficient to the degree that meeting sites and hospitality decisions can be made without relying completely on the support of others.

Announcing: First Annual SPEP Reception at the Eastern APA Meeting

In conjunction with a special APA Eastern Division session in celebration of Hans-Georg Gadamer's 100th birthday, SPEP will host its first annual APA reception for all members and friends of the society. The time and room of this event will be announced on the SPEP website late this summer and also at the Penn State meeting in October. We are grateful to Rowman and Littlefield, Publishers, for generously offering to sponsor the reception. Please plan to join fellow members for this event.

Call for Papers

The fortieth annual meeting will be hosted by Goucher College in Baltimore, Maryland. Instructions for submitting papers and proposals will be sent to members of SPEP in the Fall and will also be available on the SPEP web page at <http://www.spep.org>. The deadline for submissions will be February 1, 2001.

Notes of Appreciation

We wish to thank John Stuhr and John Sallis, local arrangements chairs, and the students and faculty assisting them. We would also like to thank Nancy Fedrow for her efforts in coordinating the conference

Minutes of the 1999 Business Meeting

The Business Meeting was called to order at 5:50 p.m. on Friday, October 8, 1999 by Linda Martín Alcoff.

1. The minutes of the 1998 meeting at Denver were submitted and accepted without correction.
2. Merold Westphal was appointed parliamentarian.
3. Linda Martín Alcoff expressed the sincere gratitude of the Society to Ken Liberman, John Lysaker, Nancy Tuana and all of the other faculty and student assistants from the University of Oregon at Eugene for their hard work as hosts for this meeting. John Draeger and Shannon Mussett, the graduate assistants from Syracuse University and Villanova University respectively, were also thanked for their diligent efforts on behalf of the Society.
4. Linda Martín Alcoff introduced the following speakers who spoke in memory of those who had passed away recently and who either had been active members of or had considerable influence on SPEP:
 - a. Walter Brogan spoke in memory of Sherman Stange
 - b. Tom Nenon spoke in memory of Bernhard Rang
 - c. Steven Crowell spoke in memory of Gian-Carlo Rota
5. Marya Bower presented the following statistical information for the 1999 meeting: The Executive Committee received 277 papers for consideration; of these 99 were submitted by women. The Executive Committee accepted a total of 90 papers; of these 32 were submitted by women. There are approximately 215 participants on the program; of these 79 are women. There are approximately 350 people registered as attending the meeting.
6. Marya Bower presented the budget and treasury report. The opening balance as of September 1, 1998 was $16,574.71. We received income of $33,211.42, for a total of $49,786.13. The expenses through August 31, 1999 were $27,926.67. This leaves a balance of $21,859.46.
7. Walter Brogan invited John Stuhr from the Pennsylvania State University to give a brief report about the arrangements for the 2000 meeting, which will be held on October 5-7, 2000.
8. Walter Brogan informed the membership that, although the Executive Committee was in communication with two institutions regarding the possibility of hosting the 2001 meeting, no formal invitation had been received. He invited members to consider hosting the 2001 meeting and future meetings. He noted that the Executive Committee was working on developing alternative means to help institutions with the cost of hosting the annual meetings, and he asked members e-mail him with suggestions regarding how this might be accomplished.
9. On behalf of the Executive Committee and the Society, Walter Brogan expressed appreciation to John Draeger, who is completing his service as graduate assistant to SPEP from Syracuse University. He also thanked Ladelle McWhorter for her many contributions to the work of the Society as Member-at-large on the Executive Committee. In addition, Brogan spoke of the important leadership provided by Linda Martín Alcoff during her term as Executive Co-Director. He invited the Society to express its thanks for the hard work and care shown by John, Ladelle, and Linda. Linda Martín Alcoff then noted that Marya Bower also was completing her second term as Secretary-Treasurer on the Executive Committee, having devoted over ten years to the Society since beginning as a graduate assistant. Alcoff invited Merold Westphal, Jack Caputo, and Debra Bergoffen to speak regarding Bower's work with the Society. Alcoff then presented Marya Bower with a plaque and the members of the Society warmly expressed their appreciation.

10. Steven Crowell conducted the elections for the open positions on the Executive Committee. For the position of at-large member, the Executive Committee nominated Kelly Oliver and Iris Marion Young. No nominations were presented from the floor. Kelly Oliver was elected to the position. For the position of Secretary-Treasurer, the Executive Committee nominated James Risser. No nominations were presented from the floor, and Risser was elected by acclamation. For the position of Executive Co-Director, the Executive Committee nominated Margaret Simons. No nominations were presented from the floor, and Simons was elected by acclamation.
11. David Ingram introduced Johanna Meehan of the Committee on the Status of Women. Meehan spoke briefly about the work of the CSW during the past year. She thanked the speakers and participants in the CSW panel at this meeting and announced a tentative topic for next year, which is diversity and diversity education in the classroom. She invited the membership to attend the CSW reception, following the business meeting; she also thanked Rowman and Littlefield for their sponsorship of the reception. Meehan noted that Sharon Meagher had prepared a report of the CSW survey results in written form, for those who were interested in receiving a copy. The new project of the CSW is to compile an oral history of women in SPEP. She invited those who wished to contribute to the project to contact her via e-mail. Meehan then thanked Sharon Meagher for her three years of service to the CSW. The Committee nominated Linda Bell to replace Meagher. The membership confirmed this nomination and elected Linda Bell to the CSW.
12. Ladelle McWhorter made several announcements on behalf of the Executive Committee:
 - a. The SPEP web site has a new address: it is www.spep.org.
 - b. The Schutz lecture will be held tonight in the O'Neill Room at the Hilton Hotel.
 - c. James Risser's e-mail address for SPEP-related correspondence is: spep@seattleu.edu.
 - d. In order to facilitate the timely production of the Philosophy Today SPEP volume, authors are asked to include a version of their paper on disk, along with two printed copies. If submitters do not have a copy of the paper on disk with them at the conference, they are asked to forward one as soon as possible to Linda Martín Alcoff at Syracuse University.
13. Ladelle McWhorter noted that the Executive Committee had written two proposals advocating for the creation of two new committees and had made these proposals available to the membership prior to the Business Meeting. She asked Linda Martín Alcoff to speak briefly about the Committee on Racial and Ethnic Diversity. After Alcoff's presentation, McWhorter invited the members to raise any questions or to share any concerns that they had. The sentiment among the membership was strongly in favor of the creation of this committee. McWhorter then asked Walter Brogan to speak briefly about the Advocacy Committee, and also invited the members to express their thoughts and concerns. There was a spirited discussion regarding the responsibilities and scope of this new committee. This discussion concluded with the membership affirming the creation of the Advocacy Committee.
14. Ladelle McWhorter invited New Business and Announcements from the membership:
 - a. Lester Embree announced Olav Wiegand as winner of the 1999 Ballard Book Prize for his book: Interpretationen der Modallogik: Ein Beitrag zur phänomenologischen Wissenschaftstheorie.

The meeting was adjourned at 7:16 p.m.
