NOTE: Dr. Jacques Derrida regrets he will be unable to attend the conference. The paper he had hoped to present, "La clôture métaphysique de la phénoménologie, i.e., Rapports entre signe linguistique et signe non-linguistique chez Husserl," will be available in mimeographed form at the meeting.

NOTES TO READERS AND SYMPOSIASIS: (1) All papers are limited to thirty minutes. Commentators are limited to ten minutes and Co-Symposiasts are limited to fifteen minutes. All papers will be followed by general discussion. Readers should send copies of their papers to the commentator concerned at least one month prior to the meeting. In the case of the two Symposia, it is requested that the First Speaker send a copy of his paper to the Co-Symposiasts at least two months prior to the meeting. It is also urged that the Co-Symposiasts make available their remarks to the principal speaker prior to the meeting. It would not be out of place for the co-symposiasts to contact the first reader by mail in order to exchange views on the general topic of discussion even earlier so as to facilitate a more focuses discussion of the issues.

(2) At the time papers are sent to the commentators or symposiasts concerned, one copy should also be sent to James M. Edie, Secretary of the Society, for publication in the proceedings of the society. These should be sent c/o Department of Philosophy, Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, 60201. (Because of the success of the first volume of proceedings entitled Invitation to Phenomenology, Quadrangle Books has agreed to bring out a second volume next spring which will include papers presented at the third, fourth and fifth annual meetings.)

CONFERENCE DETAILS: Information on hotels, motels, travel, etc., is contained in the brochures included in this mailing.

In general, University Park, Pa., is located in the town of State College, Pa., which is in the center of Pennsylvania. It can be reached by Edwards and Greyhound Bus; by Allegheny Airlines to Mid-State Airport (Philipsburg) with airport bus to University Park; by Pennsylvania Railroad to Lewistown, Pa.
