The display is organized in cooperation with publishers specializing in scholarship influenced by continental philosophy and literary, social, and political theory. Publishers offer discounts on books ordered at the exhibit.

Website

The complete program is available on the SPEP website: <http://www.spep.org>.

Publication Notice

SPEP retains the right of first review for papers presented at the annual meeting. Each presenter should forward to the current co-directors, Amy Allen (amy.allen@dartmouth.edu) and Brian Schroeder (brian.schroeder@rit.edu), an electronic copy of her or his paper by December 1, 2014 for consideration in the special supplemental issue of The Journal of Speculative Philosophy. If the paper is selected for publication, there will be an opportunity for minor revisions. Decisions regarding publication will be communicated by mid-January 2015.

Executive Committee Elections

Amy Allen's term of office as Co-Director expires this year. The Executive Committee nominates Alia Al-Saji of McGill University for a three-year term as Co-Director.

Alia Al-Saji is Associate Professor of Philosophy at McGill University. She has served SPEP as Executive Committee Member-at-Large (2009-2012), on the Racial and Ethnic Diversity Committee (2007-2009), and was the local host and co-organizer of the 2010 meeting in Montreal. Al-Saji received her PhD in Philosophy from Emory University. She works in the areas of phenomenology, French philosophy, feminist theory, and critical race theory. Al-Saji has published widely on the topics of time, embodiment, perception, and affect in the philosophies of Husserl, Merleau-Ponty, Bergson, and Fanon. She has also published on questions of 'cultural' racism toward Muslims, offering a feminist intersectional analysis of representations of veiling. Al-Saji has numerous articles in such journals as Continental Philosophy Review, Philosophy and Social Criticism, Research in Phenomenology, and the Southern Journal of Philosophy, in addition to anthologies in German, French and English. She is completing a monograph titled The Time of Difference: Thinking memory, perception and ethics with Bergson and Merleau-Ponty. Al-Saji is the editor of the Feminist Philosophy section of the journal Philosophy Compass and a co-editor of the Symposia on Gender, Race and Philosophy. She has held fellowships at the Institute of Advanced Study in Durham University and at the Camargo Foundation in France. She previously served on the Program Committee of the Eastern APA (2009-2011).

Frederick Evans' term of office as Member-At-Large expires this year. The Executive Committee nominates both Johanna Oksala of the University of Helsinki and Alan Schrift of Grinnell College for a three-year term as a Member-At-Large.

Johanna Oksala is an Academy of Finland Research Fellow in the Department of Philosophy, History, Culture, and Art Studies at the University of Helsinki, Finland, and Visiting Professor in the Department of Philosophy at The New School for Social Research, New York (2013-2015). She received her PhD from University of Helsinki in 2003. She is the author of Foucault on Freedom (Cambridge, 2005); How to Read Foucault (Granta, 2007; WW Norton 2008, republished in Brazil, Japan and South-Korea); Foucault, Politics, and Violence (Northwestern, 2012); Political Philosophy: All That Matters (Hodder and Stoughton, 2013). She has co-edited two books, Feminist Philosophy (in Finnish, with Laura Werner) and Essays on Ethics (in Finnish, with Sara Heinämaa) and has published numerous articles and book chapters on Foucault, feminist philosophy, phenomenology, and political philosophy. She recently completed a book on feminist philosophy (under review).

Alan Schrift is the F. Wendell Miller Professor of Philosophy at Grinnell College. He received his PhD from Purdue University. He has served on the SPEP Advisory Book Selection Committee and the Committee for the Status of Women. In addition to many published articles or book chapters on Nietzsche and French and German twentieth century philosophy, he is the author of Twentieth-Century French Philosophy: Key Themes and Thinkers (Blackwell, 2006); Nietzsche's French Legacy: A Genealogy of Post-Structuralism (Routledge, 1995); and Nietzsche and the Question of Interpretation: Between Hermeneutics and Deconstruction (Routledge, 1990). He has also edited sixteen books, including Modernity and the Problem of Evil (Indiana, 2005); Why Nietzsche Still? Reflections on Drama, Culture, and Politics (California, 2000); The Logic of the Gift: Toward an Ethic of Generosity (Routledge, 1997); The Hermeneutic Tradition: From Ast to Ricoeur (SUNY, 1990); and Transforming the Hermeneutic Context: From Nietzsche to Nancy (SUNY, 1990). Most recently, he was the General Editor of the eight-volume History of Continental Philosophy (Acumen Publishing, University of Chicago Press, 2010); and continues as the General Editor of The Complete Works of Friedrich Nietzsche (the Stanford University Press translation of Nietzsche's Kritische Studienausgabe) edited by Giorgio Colli and Mazzino Montinari.

Annual SPEP Lecture and Reception at the Eastern APA Meeting

The fourteenth annual SPEP lecture at the Eastern Division APA meeting will be delivered this year by Robert Gooding-Williams of Columbia University. The title of his paper will be “Martin Delany, the Sovereign Principle, and Sovereign White Supremacy.” There will be a response by Kathryn T. Gines of Pennsylvania State University; the session will be moderated by Ronald R. Sundstrom of University of San Francisco. The session will be held on December 28 from 5:15-7:15 p.m. A reception for all SPEP members and friends of continental philosophy will immediately follow the lecture. The Eastern APA Meeting will be held December 27-30, 2014 at the Downtown Marriott in Philadelphia, PA.

Call for Papers

The fifty-fourth annual SPEP meeting will be hosted by Emory University, October 8-10, 2015 in Atlanta, GA. Papers and panels from diverse philosophical perspectives in all areas of Continental Philosophy are welcome. All submissions must be submitted electronically. Instructions for submitting papers and proposals will be available on the SPEP website at www.spep.org. The submission deadline is February 1, 2015. All submissions must be sent as electronic attachments in MS Word or PDF file format to Emily Zakin at: zakinspep@gmail.com.

Prizes

SPEP is pleased to offer two prizes for superlative submissions: the best submission by a junior scholar and the best submission by a graduate student. To be eligible for the SPEP Junior Scholar Award you must have earned a PhD in the last five years (no earlier than 2009). All currently enrolled graduate students are eligible for the SPEP Graduate Student Award. Each prize is $500.00 plus a hotel and travel allowance. The runners-up for each prize will be featured in the program as SPEP Junior Scholar Honorable Mention and SPEP Graduate Student Honorable Mention.

Notes of Appreciation

On behalf of the Society, the Executive Committee would like to express its thanks to the Philosophy Departments at Loyola University and Tulane University, especially Constance Mui and Richard Velkley, local contacts and co-organizers; Joshua Lott, book exhibit coordinator; and Ronna Burger, Gail Howard, and Joe Plummer.

Thanks are also due to Kay Everage and Randy Parkins at the InterContinental Hotel.

The Executive Committee would like to thank the following for their generous financial support of the conference: Kevin Wm. Wildes, S. J., President, Loyola University New Orleans; Loyola University's Philosophy Department; Tulane University's Office of Academic Affairs and Provost's Office; Tulane University's Philosophy Department; James Faulconer, R. L. Evans Professor of Religious Understanding, Brigham Young University; and Stony Brook's Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences in combination with Eduardo Mendieta, Chair of Stony Brook's Philosophy Department.

The Executive Committee would also like to express its gratitude to all of the student volunteers.

Peter Gratton announced that next year the Advocacy Committee will feature a panel on social media and philosophy.
20. On behalf of the Executive Committee, Falguni Sheth announced the two prize recipients for the 2013 SPEP Submissions. The Junior Scholar Prize Recipient is Timo Miettinen from the University of Helsinki for his paper "Teleology Beyond Metaphysics: Husserlian Phenomenology and the Historical Consciousness of Modernity." The Graduate Student Prize Recipient is Lauren Guilmette from Emory University for her paper "In What We Tend to Feel is Without History: Foucault, Affect, and the Ethics of Curiosity." The Executive Committee also recognized the members who received the Honorable Mention Prizes for their papers: Grace Hunt from Western Kentucky University is the recipient of the Junior Scholar Prize Honorable Mention for her paper "Acting-Out: Resentment and Ressentiment in Nietzsche's Middle and Late Work." Iris Hennigfeld from the University of Freiburg is the recipient of the Graduate Student Honorable Mention for her paper "The Significance of Husserl's Phenomenology of Imagination for Creative Imagination and the Possibility of Radical New Experiences."
21. Brian Schroeder made several announcements on behalf of the Executive Committee
 - a. The thirteenth annual SPEP lecture at the Eastern Division APA meeting will be delivered this year by Linda Martin Alcoff of CUNY Hunter College. The title of her paper will be "Decolonizing Feminist Theory." There will be a response by Ewa Ziarek of the University at Buffalo and Dilek Huseyinzadegan of Emory University will moderate the session. The session will be held on December 28 from 6–8:00 PM. A reception for all SPEP members and friends of continental philosophy will immediately follow the lecture. The Eastern APA Meeting will be held December 27–30, 2013 at the Marriott Waterfront in Baltimore, MD.
 - b. All presenters may send two electronic copies to the current Co-Directors, Amy Allen and Anthony Steinbock by December 1, 2013. There is an overall limit of 4,000 words inclusive of notes for each submission. Please be advised that this deadline is final. Only individual papers are considered, not full panels or book sessions. You can find the co-directors' email addresses on the SPEP website. Final decisions regarding the papers to be included in the volume will be made by January 30, 2014. Annual membership dues to SPEP must be paid by the close of the registration desk Saturday at noon to be considered.
 - c. The Executive Committee will be posting a call for applications for the position for Secretary-Treasurer following this meeting. The next Secretary-Treasurer will shadow Shannon Mussett at the April Executive Meeting and the fall annual meeting in New Orleans. Anyone who is interested in the position is welcome to talk to Shannon or any member of the Executive Committee.
 - d. The Executive Committee has completed the SPEP Handbook, which is a guidebook for the Executive Committee and for the membership to consult regarding policies and procedures. We will post this document on the website. The membership is invited to review the handbook and bring any questions or concerns to the Executive Committee.

New Business and Announcements from the Membership

- a. The Philosophy Documentation Center has now acquired Philosophy Today and is digitizing all the issues. They are back to 1999 so far. Among those issues digitized are the SPEP supplements, so they will be available online through the PDC. Members should contact George Leaman from the PDC if interested.

Several members made announcements from the floor.

Lived Experience from the Inside Out Social and Political Philosophy in Edith Stein

Antonio Calcagno

Focusing on significant texts from Stein's early philosophical work, Calcagno explicates rich sources of social and political insight, with Stein's particular focus on individual consciousness as the entry point: how we understand and live, always from our own interiorities, the phenomenal experiences of self, others, the masses, society, community, and the state.

Ontology after Ontotheology Plurality, Event, and Contingency in Contemporary Philosophy

Gert-Jan van der Heiden

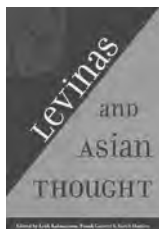

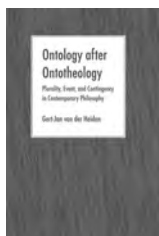

After the vehement critique of metaphysics in the twentieth century, ontology has again found its place at the center of continental philosophy. Working largely with present-day thinkers who take seriously Heidegger's critique of ontotheology—authors such as Badiou, Nancy, Romano, Meillassoux, and Agamben—van der Heiden examines contemporary thought as it seeks to recover a sense of the absolute, but without recourse to specifically theological underpinnings.

Levinas and Asian Thought

*Edited by Leah Kalmanson, Frank Garrett
& Sarah Mattice*

While influential works have been devoted to comparative studies of various Asian philosophies and continental philosophers such as Nietzsche, Heidegger, Merleau-Ponty, and Derrida, this collection is the first to fully treat the increased interest in intercultural studies related to the work of Emmanuel Levinas in such a context. Levinas and Asian Thought seeks to discover common ground between Levinas's ethical project and various religious and philosophical traditions of Asia such as Mahāyāna Buddhism, Theravādic Buddhism, Vedism, Confucianism, Daoism, and Islam.

The Intersubjectivity of Time Levinas and Infinite Responsibility

Yael Lin

In an exhaustive look at Emmanuel Levinas's primary texts, both his philosophical writings and his writings on Judaism, Yael Lin brings together Levinas's various perspectives on time. Her study concludes that we can, indeed, extract a coherent and consistent conception of time from Levinas's thought, one that is distinctly political. Thus, this study elucidates Levinas's original claim that time is actually constituted via social relationships.

Levinas's Philosophy of Time Gift, Responsibility, Diachrony, Hope

Eric Severson

"Not only has [Severson] written a learned and readable work of scholarship, he has produced a key to interpreting Levinas's entire body of work, from his earliest to his last. This key — Levinas's understanding of time — unlocks Levinas's famously 'radical claim that ethics is first philosophy.'"

Severson's book is at its best when it's exploring the connection between time and some other theme, whether Hitlerism, capitalism, hope, or language."

THE MADNESS OF VISION

On Baroque Aesthetics

By Christine Buci-Glucksmann · Translated by Dorothy Z. Baker

One of the most influential studies in phenomenological aesthetics of the baroque. Integrating the work of Merleau-Ponty with Lacanian psychoanalysis, Renaissance studies in optics, and twentieth-century mathematics, Christine Buci-Glucksmann asserts the materiality of the body and world in her aesthetic theory.

PHILOSOPHY TODAY

An International Journal of Contemporary Philosophy

Peg Birmingham, Editor

Philosophy Today is an international peer-reviewed journal that reflects the current questions, topics and debates of contemporary philosophy, with a particular focus on continental philosophy. This journal is especially interested in interdisciplinary work at the intersection of philosophy, political theory, comparative literature, and cultural studies. It provides space for reviews, as well as short translations of the works of contemporary philosophical figures originally published in other languages.
