Accommodations

General sessions will meet in the Executive Tower Inn (ETI) at 1405 Curtis, across the street from the Denver Center for the Performing Arts. Plenaries will be at the Executive Tower Inn and also on the Auraria campus of the University of Colorado (on Speer Boulevard). The ETI is holding 200 rooms for those attending the SPEP conference. The conference rate is $85 single and $95 double occupancy. The charge per additional person is $10. Reservations must be made by September 7, 1998. Call the ETI at (800) 525-6651 or (303) 571-0300 and be sure to request the conference rate for SPEP. Parking is available in the hotel's garage. Hotel guests pay $8 per day with 24 hour in/out privileges; others pay a $5 one-time daily rate.

Graduate students can occupy rooms at the ETI up to four persons. The Philosophy Department will try to put individual graduate students in touch with others to form such groups. For more information call the Department at (303) 556-5661 or send email to CKEMP@CARBON.CUDENVER.EDU.

Travel Directions to Denver and to the Executive Tower Inn

Denver is served by the Denver International Airport, located on Federico Peña Boulevard off Interstate 70 approximately 23 miles northeast of downtown. Supershuttle (800/525-3177) runs between the airport and the downtown area every half hour at $15 one-way, $27 round trip. The average taxi fare is approximately $35 one-way. Major rental car companies also serve the airport and maintain an inventory of four-wheel drive vehicles. Denver is in the Mountain Time Zone.

Those traveling by automobile can reach Denver on I-70 or I-25, which intersect just northwest of downtown. From I-70 east- or westbound, take I-25 South. From I-25 southbound, exit Speer Boulevard South and take a left across the creek onto Lawrence Street. From Lawrence, turn right onto 14th Street. The ETI is on the corner of Curtis and 14th Street, with the garage entrance on Curtis. From I-25 northbound, exit Auraria Parkway to Speer Boulevard South and proceed similarly.

Child Care Services

Child care can be arranged through several services listed by the Denver Metro Convention and Visitors Bureau, which can be reached at (303) 892-1112. The service used by the Convention Center is the Thomas Learning Center (303) 322-1399 (contact: Sharon Carlson).

Audiovisual Equipment

Please contact the Philosophy Department at (303) 556-5661 by September 10, 1998 to make arrangements for audiovisual equipment.

Notes of Appreciation

We wish to thank Mitchell Aboulafia and Catherine Kemp, local arrangements chairs, and their support staff. We wish to thank the University of Colorado at Denver, the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs, the University of Denver, Regis University, and the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences of the University of Colorado at Denver for support of the conference, and the President's Fund for the Humanities of the University of Colorado for sponsorship of the Braidotti plenary. Also, we wish to thank Fordham University and Syracuse University for their generous financial support of SPEP and for the services of graduate assistants. Finally, we wish to thank Earlham College, Fordham University, and Syracuse University for office space, equipment, and secretarial support.

Call for Papers

The thirty-eighth annual meeting will be hosted by the University of Oregon. Instructions for submitting papers and proposals will be sent to members of SPEP in the fall. The deadline for submission will be February 1, 1999.

Executive Committee Elections

Merold Westphal's term as Executive Co-Director expires this year. The Executive Committee nominates Walter Brogan, Villanova University, for a three-year term as Executive Co-Director.

Thomas Nenon's term of office expires this year. The Executive Committee nominates the following persons to fill his position. The election will be held at the business meeting.

- 1) Steven Crowell is Professor of Philosophy at Rice University with research interests in phenomenlogy (especially Husserl and Heidegger), neo-Kantianism, and the reception of phenomenology in hermeneutics, poststructuralism, and critical theory. His current work centers on transcendental philosophy (drawing upon the resources of ethical and aesthetic experience) in critical dialogue with naturalism and pragmatism. Recipient of NEH and DAAD research grants, he has authored some forty articles on figures and issues in the continental tradition, edited The Prism of the Self: Philosophical Essays in Honor of Maurice Natanson (Kluwer, 1995), and serves as general editor of the Series in Continental Thought at Ohio University Press.
- 2) Charles Harvey is Professor of Philosophy at the University of Central Arkansas. His main area of interest is Husserl's phenomenology in relation to the natural and social sciences and the possibility of social criticism. He is also interested in the personal essay as a form of narrative philosophy. He is author of over twenty articles, and of Husserl's Phenomenology and the Foundations of Natural Science (Ohio University Press, 1989) and Conundrums: A Book of Philosophical Questions (University Press of America, 1995). He is currently working on a book that applies Husserl's phenomenology to problems in the natural, social, and formal sciences, and to issues in cultural studies.

Abstracts of Papers

Abstracts provided by authors will be available at Registration. Speakers should send abstracts to Linda Martín Alcoff, Syracuse University, Dept. of Philosophy, 541 Hall of Languages, Syracuse, NY 13244-1170 by September 8, 1998.

Web Sites

The SPEP web site may be found at http://www-hl.syr.edu/phil/spep. Please note that the web site for the Philosophy Department of the University of Colorado at Denver lists a SPEP button, which provides general conference information, local arrangements, local announcements, and area attractions. The Philosophy Department's address is http://www.cudenver.edu/public/phil.

Book Exhibit

A publishers' book display will be held in the Executive Towers Inn, Forum Ballroom, 2nd Floor, from noon on Thursday until 1:00 p.m. on Saturday. This display is organized by SPEP in cooperation with publishers specializing in scholarship influenced by continental philosophy and literary, social, and political theory. Publishers offer discounts on books ordered at the exhibit.

Publication Notice

SPEP retains the right of first review of papers presented at the annual meeting. Each presenter should bring two copies of her or his paper to turn in to the registration table at the time of registration. Decisions about publications will be based on this version. If the paper is selected for publication, there will be opportunity for minor revisions. Decisions regarding publication will be communicated by mid-January of 1999.

Organizational Meeting—Continental and American Philosophy

All those interested in a symposium, a conference, and/or an organization devoted to scholarship in the areas of Continental and American philosophy are invited to an organizational lunch meeting at 12:15 p.m. on Thursday, October 8 in Plaza Building M 108 on the University Campus. Please contact Mitchell Aboulafia at (303) 556-8558 for more information.

Program Notes

The International Association for Environmental Philosophy, the Nietzsche Society, the Society for the Advancement of American Philosophy, the Society for Continental Philosophy and Theology, and the Society for Phenomenology and the Human Sciences are meeting in conjunction with SPEP. See pages 22-30 for details.

MINUTES OF THE 1997 SPEP BUSINESS MEETING

The Business Meeting was called to order at 5:51 p.m. on October 17, 1997 by Merold Westphal.

- 1. The minutes of the 1996 meeting at Georgetown were submitted and accepted without
- 2. Martin Dillon was appointed parliamentarian.
- 3. Merold Westphal expressed the sincere gratitude of the Society to Ron Bruzina. Katie Barret, Janet Roccanova, and all of the student assistants from University of Kentucky at Lexington for their work on local arrangements. The University was thanked for the financial support that it provided for this meeting.
- 4. Marya Bower presented the following statistical information: The Executive Committee received 243 papers for consideration; of these, 95 were submitted by women. The Executive Committee accepted a total of 86 papers; of these, 34 were submitted by women. There are 209 participants on the program; of these 72 are women. There are approximately 375 people registered as attending the meeting.
- 5. Marya Bower presented the budget and treasury report. The opening balance as of September 1, 1996 was $14,516.52. We received income of $26,185.24, for a total of $40,701.76. The expenses through August 31, 1997 were $31,159.58. This leaves a balance of $9,542.18.
- 6. Merold Westphal announced that SPEP does not currently have an invitation from an institution to host the 1999 meeting. The Executive Committee would welcome the chance to talk with representatives from schools that would be interested in hosting that meeting. Westphal then invited Mitchell Aboulafia of the University of Colorado at Denver to give a summary of the arrangements for the 1998 meeting. Westphal also announced that SPEP had received an invitation for the 2000 meeting from The Pennsylvania State University. The exact date of the meeting will be determined in the near future. The invitation from Penn State was accepted by the membership, with thanks.
- 7. On behalf of the Executive Committee and the Society, Linda Alcoff expressed heartfelt appreciation to David Rasmussen, who is completing a three year term on the Executive Committee.
- 8. Tom Nenon conducted the election for the open position on the Executive Committee. For the position of at-large member of the Executive Committee, the Executive Committee nominated James Bohman and David Ingram. No nominations were presented from the floor. Both of the candidates were thanked for their willingness to serve the Society. David Ingram was elected to the position.
- Tom Nenon introduced Sharon Meagher of the Committee on the Status of Women. Meagher spoke briefly regarding the three initiatives that have been the focus of the CSW this year. First is the CSW reception, to be held following the Business Meeting. The reception is sponsored by Routledge and SUNY Press. Second, the CSW organized a panel and roundtable discussion on the topic of jobs for women in continental philosophy. Meagher thanked the Executive Committee for creating space on the program for this discussion. She also invited suggestions from the membership regarding topics for future roundtable panel discussions. Third, Meagher noted that the CSW was compiling the data gathered from the survey distributed with the program this year and would present a report at the next annual meeting. Meagher thanked Kelly Oliver for her three years of service to the Committee on the Status of Women. Tina Chanter of the University of Memphis was nominated by the CSW and elected by the membership to fill that vacancy.

- 10. Linda Alcoff made several announcements on behalf of the Executive Committee:
  - A. The Executive Committee reminded the membership to send their submissions by the postmark deadline announced in the Call for Papers. In addition, papers that exceed the length limit or that are not complete will not be accepted. If there are any questions about the submission procedures, please consult the Call for Papers or contact Marya Bower.
  - B. The last SUNY volume is in production. Authors have seen the copy-edited version of their papers and SUNY is advertising the book as being available in June of 1998.
  - C. SPEP's Web Site can be reached at: http://www-hl.syr.edu/phil/spep. The Call for Papers, the annual program, a list of SPEP publications, and other important information and links will be available at the site.
  - D. Presenters were reminded to leave two copies of their paper at the registration desk no later than Saturday morning in order to be considered for publication in the next SPEP volume of Philosophy Today.
  - E. The position of Secretary-Treasurer will come open for election in 1999. Because of the nature of the position and the institutional support that it involves, the Executive Committee would like to consider potential nominees well in advance. If you would like to be considered for the position, or if you have a suggestion of someone who would fill the position well, please give this information to one of the members of the Executive Committee.
- 11. Linda Alcoff invited New Business and Announcements from the membership:
  - A. Ed Casey announced that a new society focusing on continental environmental philosophy would be forming with the intention of meeting annually on the Sunday after SPEP's meeting. The first program will be next year in Denver.
  - B. Bruce Benson announced an organizational meeting for a new society focusing on continental philosophy and theology. The organizational meeting will take place Saturday during lunch.
  - C. Robert Bernasconi reminded the membership to submit papers to all divisions of the APA.

- D. Bob Scharff announced that the journal Man and World is being renamed Continental Philosophy Review. He asked that the membership make sure that their libraries were aware of this change.
- E. Kristin Switala announced that a feminism and feminist theory web site, of which she is the editor, should be launched by mid-November. She invited the membership to contact her about the web site at kswitala@cecasun.utc.edu.

The meeting was adjourned at 6:30 p.m.

Psychological and Transcendental Phenomenology and the Confrontation with Heidegger (1927–1931)

by Edmund Husserl translated by Thomas Sheehan and Richard E. Palmer

This volume presents the English translations of texts by Edmund Husserl, and some by Martin Heidegger, that date from 1927 through to 1931. Most notably, the volume contains English translations of (a) all the drafts of – as well as Heidegger's contributions to – Husserl's ill-fated article 'Phenomenology' – a garbled version of which was published in the Encyclopaedia Britannica in 1929; (b) Husserl's 'Amsterdam Lectures', delivered in 1928; (c) the copious notes that Husserl wrote in the margins of Heidegger's Sein und Zeit and Kant und das Problem der Metaphysik; and (d) Husserl's lecture 'Phänomenologie und Anthropologie', delivered in 1931. Ably edited, translated, and introduced by two leading scholars, these texts as a whole document Husserl's thinking as he approached retirement from teaching and also shed light on the philosophical chasm that was widening at the time between Husserl and Heidegger.

HUSSERLIANA: EDMUND HUSSERL Collected Works - Volume 6 October 1997 ISBN 0-7923-4481-2 528 pp., cloth $199.00

Thing and Space: Lectures of 1907

by Edmund Husserl translated and edited by Richard Rojcewicz

This is a translation of Husserl's 'Thing-lectures' (Dingvorlesung) of 1907, published posthumously in 1973. The lectures deal with the constitution of the thing as a res extensa, an extended spatial structure filled with sensuous qualities and not yet with substantial or causal properties. Key to this phenomenological account is the role of the kinaesthetic systems of the body in the constitution of both three-dimensional space and the thing in its identity, its manifold of possible movements, and its position in relation to the ego.

The 'Thing-lectures' form part of the project of a 'phenomenology and critique of reason' announced in a general introduction to the same lectures and published separately as The Idea of Phenomenology. There for the first time the idea of a transcendental phenomenology based on the principle of the phenomenological reduction was laid out. The lectures presented here thus form a striking example of the application of this idea to a concrete and fundamental field of research.

POIESIS: Philosophy Online Serials is an essential reference and publishing service being built around the world's leading philosophy journals. POIESIS offers searchable online access to a single database containing the full text of current, recent, and back issues of a growing number of philosophy journals. The first CD-ROM to be created from POIESIS, 50 Years of The Review of Metaphysics, is also available.

POIESIS offers three levels of subscription-based service. The Basic Subscription provides searchable access to the entire content of each journal issue in the database. The Current Subscription provides users with electronic access to the full text of current issues (the most recent three years, or as determined by the journal) of journals that have agreed to participate in the project at this level. Institutions can selectively choose the journals to which they would like to subscribe. The Archive Subscription will provide access to the full text of all back issues that have been digitized. Archive Subscriptions will be available in 1999.

The price of the Basic Subscription is generally determined by the number of philosophy faculty at a given institution. Since POIESIS is in the early stages of development, we are offering a special half-price introductory price to the Basic Subscription for 1998.

BASIC SUBSCRIPTION PRICING	1998
0-3 Philosophy Faculty	$150/yr
4-9 Philosophy Faculty	$375/yr
10+ Philosophy Faculty	$750/yr

CURRENT SUBSCRIPTION PRICING

Current Subscriptions are purchased on a per journal basis, and the price is determined by the copyright holder. The total cost of the Current Subscription is the sum of the individual choices.

To see a demonstration of POIESIS, visit our web site at http://www.nlx.com/posp. For more information, contact the Philosophy Documentation Center at 800-444-2419 (U.S. & Canada), or (419) 372-2419; Fax: (419) 372-6987; E-mail: poiesis@mailserver.bgsu.edu.

POIESIS is a joint venture of the Philosophy Documentation Center and Intelex Corporation, the leading producer of full-text databases for philosophers. Their PAST MASTERS® series represents the largest collection of electronic texts in philosophy in the world.
